THE Annual Meeting of the Society was held in the Chetham Library, Manchester. Professor W. Boyd Dawkins, F. R. S. , the retiring President, occupied the chair. Mr. G. C. Yates, the Honorary Secretary, read the Annual Report of the Council and the Treasurers Statement of Accounts, which were adopted on the motion of Mr. W. Thompson Watkin, seconded by Mr. J. Taylor Kay. The Chairman said he would like, in vacating the office of President, to say a few words with regard to the position of the Society. The members were to be congratulated very heartily on the result of their labours. The real historical and antiquarian work done by the Society in Cheshire and Lancashire was of no small importance in these times. In a commercial centre like Manchester, given for the most part to money getting and like concerns, they had constituted themselves in some sense the guardians, and in some sense the exponents, of the antiquities of the district and the materials for its history. The work they had done was important also with relation to the social life of the district. Unfortunately, from the condition of his surroundings, he had been able neither to be an ornamental nor an effective working president. Notwithstanding this the Society, in virtue of its own momentum, had been able to achieve a very creditable career. For his own part he had learned a great deal from attending the...
